Dear Jonathan,

Re: Floor standing copiers/printers/multifunction devices - Request to Clarify Material Definition

WDO has received OES' request dated December 11, 2012 (see appendix) to clarify the definition of floor-standing printers, copiers and multi-function devices effective January 1, 2013.

Upon our review, and that of our legal advisor, we believe that given the technological advancements made in the 'Printing, Copying and Multi-Function Devices' material category since the program's inception that it would be appropriate for OES to clarify which devices are included and excluded in both the desktop/portable and floor-standing printing, copying and multi-function devices sub-categories. As such WDO consents to OES' request.

Please do not hesitate to call if you have any questions regarding this issue.

Yours Truly,

Michael Scott
